

CLIFFORD: Wallace Lane, 95, died Saturday, July 19, 2003, at the Pines Rehabilitation and Health Center in Lyndon. The son of William H. and Esther M. (Morse) Clifford, he was born March 16, 1908 in North Danville. He graduated from St. Johnsbury Academy, Class of 1926. He served in the U.S. Army Air Corps, serving in both the Italian and North African campaigns. He married Maye Doran, who predeceased him in 1983. He later married Arda Remick, who predeceased him June 14, 2003. Wally was an installer/repairman for New England Telephone for many years; he loved farming, the farm and the cattle; and he enjoyed hunting and fishing. Wally is survived by his son, Terry Clifford and wife Wanetta of Danville; two stepdaughters, Dorothy Nelson and husband Keith, and Elizabeth Yoder and husband Gary, all of Sanford, N.C.; three grandchildren, Pamela Clifford of Glover, Patrick Clifford of Danville, and Anne Rockwell and husband Ralph of Bolton; and two great-grandchildren, Andrew and Kaitlin Rockwell. He was predeceased by a sister, Edith Clifford, in 1986. A graveside service will be held Tuesday, July 22 at 11 a.m. at the Pope Cemetery in Danville, with the Rev. Steven Winkler officiating. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the South Congregational Church.