

Elsie Nutting - Obituary

Elsie L. Nutting, 94, of Lyndonville, died Tuesday morning Jan. 24, 2012, at The Pines Rehabilitation and Health Center in Lyndon with her family by her side.

She was born Aug. 27, 1917, in Springfield, Vt., the daughter of Clayton and Vera (Ball) Smith. She graduated from Lyndon Institute in 1937.

On July 4, 1937, she married Milburn "Red" Nutting. They lived and raised their family in Lyndonville. During the 1960s she taught drivers education at Lyndon Institute. She then worked as a nurse's aide for many years at the St. Johnsbury Convalescent Center retiring in 1979.

Elsie was a long-time member of the Women's Bowling League at Gold Crown Lanes in St. Johnsbury which she enjoyed very much. She enjoyed cooking, spending time with her family and knitting. She operated a shop out of her home for many years called the Knit-Nook, selling knitting supplies and yarns. One of her greatest accomplishments was becoming the Vermont state queen for T.O.P.S., a weight loss support group. She had also been a member of Eastern Star.

Survivors include three daughters, Janice Nutting of Lyndonville, Dorothy Borsodi and her husband Albert of Waterford, Vt., and Mary Schoonover and her husband Richard of Lyndonville, seven grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren and seven nieces and nephews.

She was predeceased by her parents; her husband Milburn "Red" Nutting in 1997; a son, Daniel Nutting in 1994; and a sister, Violet Davis.

Private graveside services will be held in Lyndon Center Cemetery at the convenience of the family.
