

STETSON: Paul Gilman, 83, of 122 South St., Concord, Vt., passed away Wednesday, Oct. 9, 2002, at Northeastern Vermont Regional Hospital in St. Johnsbury. He was born Nov. 21, 1918 in St. Johnsbury, the son of the late Henry and Flora (Barclay) Stetson. He graduated from Tilton Prep School in 1937, and served in the U.S. Air Force during World War II. He then farmed for 17 years, worked at the Saunders Saw Mill, and then at McLarens Farm Equipment from 1964 until he retired in 1980. He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth (Dale) Stetson of Concord, whom he married May 4, 1943; his children and their spouses, Douglas and Patsy Stetson of Lyndonville, and Judith and James Masure of Sutton; his grandchildren and their spouses, Dawn Marie and Paul Doty of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Douglas and Kristi Stetson Jr. of Lyndonville; his great-grandsons, Daniel Stetson of Lyndonville, and Gage Doty of Oklahoma City, Okla.; and his brother and wife, Dr. John and Doris Stetson of St. Johnsbury. At his request there will be no services. Those who wish may send contributions in his memory to either the Concord Fast Squad, Concord, VT 05824, or to the Caledonia Home Health Care Agency, P.O. Box 383, St. Johnsbury, VT 05819.