

MARCEAU: Barbara Jean (Sanville), 66, of St. Johnsbury, passed away Monday, Nov. 29, 2004, at Fletcher Allen Hospital in Burlington. Barbara resided in St. Johnsbury, but spent the last few months living with her daughter, Lori (Marceau) Gilding and family while undergoing radiation treatment for breast cancer. Barbara was born June 25, 1938, in Burlington, the daughter of Harold and Helen Sanville of St. Johnsbury. Barbara is survived by her five children and their spouses or significant others, Mike and Terri Cheatham, of Groton, N.Y., Gary and Brenda (Faul) Marceau, of Thornton, Colo., Robert and Lori Gilding, of South Burlington, Vt., Todd and Mary Marceau, of Lyndonville, Vt., and Scott and Tina (Duenas) Nelson, of Montevideo, Minn.; nine grandchildren, Daniel, Kelly and Sean Cheatham, of Groton, N.H., Holly Davis, of Newark, Vt., Pete and Tennyson Marceau, of Lyndonville, Vt., Angela Gilding, of Colchester, Vt., and Christopher and Kayla Gilding, of South Burlington, Vt.; one great-grandchild, Lauren Shelly, of Colchester, Vt.; brother and sister-in-law, Francis and Joan Turner, of Hartford, Vt.; and niece, Katherine Saturley, of White River Jct., Vt. Barbara was predeceased by her husband of 36 years, Roger O. Marceau, on Oct. 14, 1994; her parents, Harold and Helen Sanville; and her brother, Kenneth Sanville in October 2004. Barbara enjoyed spending time with her children, grandchildren and great-grandchild. She loved to travel, and frequently went on trips visiting her children in various parts of the country. She loved to play bingo, and loved taking day trips to Canada with her friends. Per Barbara's request, there will be no service or visiting hours. Her family asks that any donations be sent to the Visiting Nurse Association (VNA), 1110 Prim Road, Colchester, VT 05446; or to the Caledonia County Home Health, P.O. Box 383, St. Johnsbury, VT 05819.
