

Roland Earl Johnson, 77, of Concord, Vt., passed away on June 30, 2016, after a few years of declining health.

Roland enjoyed time spent with his grandchildren and in recent years, breakfast trips with his two granddaughters, Lindsey and Emma, as well as watching all their sporting events. He enjoyed being in Florida with all his friends and going to the flea markets and yard sales.

He was predeceased by his parents, Harold and Wilma (Allard) Johnson; his brother, Reginald; and a sister, Raylene.

Roland is survived by his wife, Sherri (Wilson) Sorrell; by his daughter, Lori (Johnson) Dodge and her children, Jacob, Garrett and Bailey of Lyndonville, Vt., Clarissa (Chris) Kenison and her husband Donnie, their children, Cameron and Cody Brown, Jason, Michael and Danny Kenison; eight grandkids all of Groveton, N.H., Amy Bergeron and her husband Aaron (Pumper), their children, Arik and Lindsey of Kirby, Vt., Sarah Corey and her daughter Emma of Concord, Vt.; his two brothers, Richard Johnson and his wife Clara of Sutton, Vt., and Ralph Johnson and his wife Dolly of West Burke, Vt.; his sister, Ruthann and her husband Robert Hamel of Lyndonville, Vt.; as well as several nieces and nephews; also his very dear friend, Dotti Morton and longtime friend, Peter "Honey" Duprey.
