

Pearl Anne Lamont Roby, age 67 of Douglasville, passed away on March 12, 2016. She was born June 12, 1948 in St. Johnsbury, Vermont to the late Edmond Leon Lamont and Mary Rose Bourtel Lamont. Pearl worked as a medical secretary during her career and was Catholic by faith.

She will be missed by everyone who knew her—especially her family. “Family is the foundation of our lives. In my family, my Father is the rock...strong, solid, and unwavering. But to build a foundation, you also need mortar...that was my Mom. I once heard Randy Travis sing, "It's not what you take when leave this world behind, it's what you leave behind you when you go." My Mom is gone now, but the foundation she helped build remains. Upon that foundation I have built a family of my own. And when my daughter blows me kisses...something my Mom taught her...from the arms of my wife on her way upstairs to bed, I will smile, thankful for all she left behind”—Jody Roby.

Pearl is survived by her husband of 49 years, Arthur Joseph ‘Pete’ Roby; son, Jody Christopher Roby and his wife, Amanda, of Powder Springs; daughter, Christine Marie Roby of Lyndonville, Vermont; grandchildren, Madelyn Tate, Emilia Roby, Sutton Roby, Dana Entrott and Samantha Giguere. Pearl is also survived by her brothers; Albert Lamont of Wheelock, Vermont, and Bernard ‘Bernie’ Lamont of Lyndonville, Vermont, sisters; Alberta McDuff of Belleview, Florida and Dianne Lessard and her husband, Edmund, of St. Johnsbury, Vermont.

In accordance with her wishes, she will be cremated and no services are planned at this time.
