Jack grew up in West Barnet around Harvey's Lake where he got his love of the outdoors. In his day he knew all about what you could and couldn't eat in the woods, knowledge from which he derived the nickname "Outback Jack!" Jack was really a multi-talented individual in many ways: landscaping, carpentry, artist, car detailing, and making dandelion wine. He was fortunate enough to have attended many concerts and loved the music of Creedence Clearwater Revival.

He is survived by his mother, Mary DeKoeyer of St. Johnsbury; his father, Jack H. DeKoeyer and Inge Gray of Littleton, N.H.; eight brothers and sisters: Carol Ann Keys of Hooksett, N.H.; Susan Caldwell of Boynton Beach, Fla.; Mike DeKoeyer and Michelle Travis of West Barnet; Michelle "Missy" Moen and husband Las of New Smyrna Beach, Fla.; Patricia "Tresa" DeKoeyer of Concord; Mark DeKoeyer and Sherri Gervais of Passumpsic; Lisa DeKoeyer and husband Joe of Pompano Beach, Fla.; Cindy Rodd and husband Casey of St. Johnsbury; eight nieces and nephews: Christopher, Tracey, and Micah; Sara; Shon; Joseph, Jackie, and Chelsea; nine great-nieces; two great-nephews; one great-great-niece; many aunts and uncles, and cousins. He was predeceased by a sister Jackie and a nephew Seth.
