

Frederick L. Daniell, of St. Johnsbury, died peacefully at home Monday evening, Dec. 4, 2006, at the age of 79. He was born Nov. 1, 1927 in West Danville to Leslie and Rose (Crepeault) Daniell. He went to St. Johnsbury Trade School. In March 1945, he entered the Navy and served for two years in Pensacola, Fla. He married Mildred Paro on Sept. 20, 1947. Known as "The Candy Man," Fred, and later his son Gary, owned and operated Tasty Treats, a candy distributing company based in St. Johnsbury. Their route took them even north of the Canadian border, into New Hampshire, Barre, Montpelier, and as far south as Fairlee. He was a member of the Elks BPOE 1343, the American Legion Post 58 and TOPS. He is survived by his wife, Mildred; two sons, Gary Daniell and his wife Sharon of Danville, and Richard Daniell and his wife Dawn of St. Johnsbury; seven grandchildren, Casey, Kyle and Devin Daniell, Nick, Travis and Jill Daniell, and Paul Touchstone; his brother, Albert Daniell of St. Johnsbury; cousins, nieces and nephews; and his customers, who were always more than just customers, they were his friends. He was predeceased by a sister, Dorothy Berube. It was Fred's wish that his funeral be limited to just his immediate family. In lieu of general visiting hours, please send a card describing your fondest memories of how your life was touched by Fred to Mildred Daniell 399 Spring St., St. Johnsbury, VT 05819.
