

Sister Irene Chaloux, CND, 88, of Montreal, Quebec died on Jan. 12, 2008, at the Infirmary of the Sisters of the Congregation Notre Dame in Montreal. She was born Nov. 10, 1919, in St. Johnsbury, Vt., the second child of Fred and Adelaide Chaloux. Irene attended Mount St. Joseph Academy and later went to the Normal School of the Congregation Notre Dame in Montreal. In 1942, she professed vows in the CND order and dedicated her life for over 65 years to the religious order. She taught in schools in St. Jean, Sherbrooke, and Montreal, Quebec. Most of her years teaching were served at Marguerite Bourgeois College in Montreal teaching English and other subjects in writing and public speaking. After 40 plus years teaching, she retired and took an interest in helping young immigrants from Korean families learn her language. She continued to give private lessons in English, in French, and in religion to adults, all of whom appreciated it immensely. Sister Irene was predeceased by her parents, Fred and Adelaide Chaloux; her sisters, Mrs. Geraldine Lozeau and Sister Marion Chaloux, RHSJ; and sisters-in-law, Connie Chaloux and Fran Lamothe Chaloux. She is survived by her brother and sister-in-law, Gerard and Gemma Chaloux of St. Johnsbury; a sister, Sister Theresa Chaloux, CND, of Hastings on the Hudson, N.Y.; and a brother, Bill Chaloux of Gilbert, Ariz. A mass of Christian burial was celebrated at the chapel of the CND sisters in Montreal, Quebec, on Jan. 14, 2008.
